About this form

This information form lists the skilled occupations which are acceptable for permanent migration to Australia under 2 separate categories:

- General Skilled Migration; and
- The Employer Nomination Scheme.

Occupations are listed alphabetically in accordance with the first four major occupational groups in the Australian Standard Classification of Occupations (ASCO) dictionary:

- Managers and Administrators;
- Professionals;
- Associate Professionals; and
- Tradespersons and Related Workers.

The ASCO dictionary is available from the Australian Bureau of Statistics website www.abs.gov.au

For each occupation the list shows:

- the name of the occupation;
- the ASCO code of the occupation;
- the relevant skills/qualifications assessing authority for the occupation;
- whether the occupation is included on the SOL for General Skilled Migration, (Y for yes, N for no);
- whether the occupation is on the SSASSL for General Skilled Migration to the Sydney region (Y for yes, N for no);
- the number of points for skill allocated for the occupation in the points test (General Skilled Migration only); and
- whether the occupation is on the ENSOL the Employer Nomination Scheme (Y for yes, N for no).

General Skilled Migration

Offshore General Skilled – (a General Skilled Migration visa which can only be granted while you are outside Australia) at the time you lodge your application you must provide evidence that you have obtained an assessment from a relevant assessing authority that your skills are suitable for your nominated occupation.

Onshore General Skilled – (a General Skilled Migration visa which can only be granted while you are in Australia) you must make a declaration that you have applied for a skills assessment from a relevant assessing authority for your nominated occupation at the time you lodge your application.

For further information on the requirements for General Skilled Migration, see the department's website www.immi.gov.au/skilled/

Onshore Skilled New Zealand Citizen categories – at the time you lodge your application you must provide evidence that you have obtained an assessment from a relevant assessing authority that your skills are suitable for your nominated occupation.

Sydney and Selected Areas Skilled Shortage List (SSASSL)

For further information on the SSASSL, including whether you need to nominate an occupation on the SSASSL, see the department's website www.immi.gov.au/skilled/

Employer Nomination Scheme

Employer Nomination Scheme Occupation List (ENSOL)

If you are applying under the Employer Nomination Scheme, you must have been nominated by an Australian employer to fill a position in an occupation that appears in the ENSOL. You must also demonstrate that you have the necessary skills and qualifications to fill the position for which you have been nominated. You can demonstrate this by:

- working in Australia in the occupation for which you are being nominated for 2 years prior to applying for your ENS visa (including at least the last 12 months with your nominating employer); or
- have your skills and qualifications assessed as equivalent to the Australian standard by the appropriate assessment authority and, unless exceptional circumstances apply, have 3 years post-qualification experience in the occupation; or
- be nominated for a position which attracts a base salary of at least the salary specified by Gazette Notice for highly paid executive positions. The current minimum salary level is available at www.immi.gov.au/skilled/skilled-workers/ens/eligibility.htm

If you wish to demonstrate that you have the necessary skills by obtaining a skills assessment from the assessment authority listed for your occupation on this form (ie. option 2 above), then you must obtain this skills assessment before you lodge your visa application and you must provide it to the department at the time you lodge your visa application.

If you are applying under the Employer Nomination Scheme, and you are required to hold a licence or registration of any kind in order to work in Australia in your occupation, you can provide evidence that you are eligible to unconditionally hold that licence or registration with your visa application instead of providing a skills assessment from the assessing authority listed on this form.

If you are applying under the Employer Nomination Scheme and you have been nominated to fill a senior academic or scientific research position by an Australian university or the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO), you will not need to have your skills assessed by an assessing authority listed on this form.

If you are applying under the Employer Nomination Scheme and the assessing authority for your occupation is listed as TRA (Trades Recognition Australia), the department will also accept a skills assessment from the Department of Industrial Relations in the State or Territory where you will be working.

For further information on the requirements of the Employer Nomination Scheme, see the department's website www.immi.gov.au/skilled/ or read booklet 5, Employer Sponsored Migration, which is available from the website or from any office of the department.

Assessing authorities

The assessing authorities are responsible for undertaking skills assessments for migration purposes and are not employment agencies. The assessing authorities will not reply to requests for job placement.

You must contact a relevant assessing authority directly to obtain a skills assessment. They will provide all necessary applications forms and associated information relating to the assessment. There will be a charge for the assessment. The contact details for assessing authorities are listed on pages 15–17 of this form.

An overview of the processing guidelines of some assessing authorities is provided on pages 18–23. Information on processing guidelines is intended as a guide only and the most up to date information can be obtained from the relevant assessing authority.

Skills assessment process

Following is a brief description on the assessment process for various occupations.

While you are encouraged to contact the assessment bodies direct for further information, general information on various occupations can be obtained through the Occupational Information leaflets in the publications page of the NOOSR website at www.dest.gov.au/noosr/leaflets/

AACA Architects Accreditation Council of Australia Inc

The assessment of overseas academic qualifications in architecture is carried out by the Architects Accreditation Council of Australia Inc. Qualifications obtained outside Australia are assessed in terms of equivalence with an academic qualification in architecture from a recognised school of architecture in Australia. Generally a qualification is of 5 to 6 years duration from a higher education institution.

Applicants should be aware that this assessment is provisional only, and upon arrival in Australia they will be required to submit for the Review of Academic Equivalence (RAE), undertake work experience in an architect's office, and submit for the Architectural Practice Examination (APE) before being eligible for registration.

AASW Australian Association of Social Workers

The general field of social welfare in Australia is diverse and complex, with a range of occupational groups involved in service provision. The social work profession is one of these groups. Whilst social work is not a legally registered occupation in Australia, many employers do require eligibility for membership of the Australian Association of Social Workers (AASW).

The AASW is the professional organisation for social workers in Australia. It has a number of functions including: approval of Australian Bachelor of Social Work courses so that their graduates can meet AASW membership eligibility requirements; self-regulation of the profession; and assessment of overseas social work qualifications.

The assessment of overseas social work qualifications is undertaken on the basis of AASW's membership eligibility requirements. A comparative method of assessment is used: the formal social work educational course completed overseas is compared with AASW requirements for social work courses in Australia, which are Bachelor degrees in social work awarded after 4 years of study at a university. The overseas qualifications are compared with AASW requirements for Australian courses in terms of educational level, length, structure and content, including required fieldwork placements. AASW encourages applicants to contact AASW directly if they require further information and application forms.

APC Australian Physiotherapy Council

The assessment of overseas physiotherapy qualifications is carried out by the Australian Physiotherapy Council.

The APC Process

The APC process has 3 stages:

1. APC Eligibility Assessment – a physiotherapist who completed his or her basic physiotherapy qualification overseas must complete and submit the Eligibility and Skills Assessment form (1249) and certified copies of specific documents. This information is assessed to determine whether the APC eligibility criteria have been satisfied.
2. APC Written Examination (previously termed Screening Examination) – conducted world-wide. The APC Written Examination is a multiple choice question examination covering the principal areas of physiotherapy as practised in Australia.
3. APC Clinical Examination – conducted in Australia only.

Upon successful completion of the APC process, a candidate will be eligible to apply to register to practise as a physiotherapist in Australia. Only then will a candidate's skills be considered suitable for migration purposes.

APC Eligibility Criteria

An overseas qualified physiotherapist is normally assessed as eligible to proceed to the Written Examination if, in addition to general requirements relating to residency status, he or she submits evidence that the following criteria have been satisfied:

1. The tertiary level studies leading to his or her physiotherapy qualification are equivalent in duration to no less than 3 academic years and the curriculum studied is sufficiently similar in theory and practical aspects (including hours of clinical practice) to the entry-level physiotherapy programs undertaken in Australia, and included a substantial element of supervised physiotherapy clinical practice. [Educational programs in Australia leading to a physiotherapy qualification involve a minimum of 4 years study and include substantial periods of supervised clinical practice.]
2. The tertiary level studies leading to his or her physiotherapy qualification included theoretical and clinical components of cardio-respiratory, musculoskeletal and neurological physiotherapy, and theoretical and practical aspects of electrotherapy, similar in content and duration to entry-level physiotherapy programs undertaken in Australia;
3. The tertiary level studies leading to his or her physiotherapy qualification qualify the candidate to be registered/licensed as a physiotherapist in the country in which the program was completed (if applicable); and
4. If the candidate is from a country where English is not the first language of that country, he or she is able to demonstrate that they have a comprehensive knowledge and satisfactory level of skill in English by completing the APC English Language Requirement.

Further details and a copy of form 1249 are available from www.physiocouncil.com.au

ACS Australian Computer Society

The Australian Computer Society (ACS) is the professional society for information technology practitioners in Australia. It is also the professional body authorised by the Australian Government to conduct skills assessments for migration purposes.

You may apply for a skills assessment if:

- you are a current Member (MACS) of the ACS; or
- you possess any of the following Australian qualifications or overseas qualifications and relevant experience assessed as comparable:
  - *Bachelor (undergraduate) degree or higher qualification with a major in IT plus 4-years of relevant professional IT work experience;
  - Bachelor (undergraduate) degree or higher qualification with a minor in IT plus 6-years of relevant professional IT work experience;
  - (AQF) Advanced Diploma (3 years full-time) or (AQF) Diploma (2 years full-time) in IT plus 6-years of relevant professional IT work experience.

*Recent graduates of an Australian university who fall within the first category do not require experience.

If you do not possess a recognised qualification in IT (or IT sub-discipline) but you have a qualification in another discipline together with significant experience in IT and extensive professional development education, you may apply for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). Applicants in this category should have a minimum of 6 years relevant professional IT work experience.

AIM Australian Institute of Management

To satisfy the level of qualifications, training and work experience for a 'professional manager' assessed by AIM, applicants must hold a senior management position. The criteria used is as follows:

A record of proven management achievement over a period of 5 years or more in a senior management position such as a chief executive, general manager or senior functional manager who delegates authority to several other managers who hold positions requiring the delegation of work to several other positions of a supervisory, or technical, or skilled nature.

The years of experience may be reduced if the applicant has qualifications in management studies or business administration assessed as comparable to an Australian Bachelor degree, or in a discipline relevant to the field in which the manager is working. You must have relevant work experience – recent graduates are not able to meet the requirements.

An important factor in making an assessment is whether a person delegates authority to other managers who are themselves responsible for planning, organisation, decision making, staffing and control, and who in turn delegate to others.

The assessment is based upon a review of an entire career history and satisfactory evidence is sought of managerial progression through increased authority and responsibility of each position thereby demonstrating a period of sustained success.

Applicants who wish to have their skills assessed should contact AIM for further information.

Note: Any grading of experience and education undertaken by any AIM State Division for membership does not automatically translate into approval under the skills assessment process for migration.

AIR Australian Institute of Radiography

Medical Radiation Science in Australia

Medical Radiation Science in Australia encompasses:

- Diagnostic Radiographers (Medical Imaging Technologists);
- Radiation Therapists; and
- Sonographers.

Radiographers/Radiation Therapists/ Sonographers and Industrial Radiographers holding qualifications obtained outside Australia must apply directly to the Australian Institute of Radiography for assessment of their qualifications.

The AIR will, through its Overseas Qualifications Assessment Panel, directly assess Radiographers/Radiation Therapists and Sonographers and will refer assessments on Industrial Radiographers to AINDT. However all applications must be submitted to the AIR.

A Comprehensive appeal process is available to all applicants and the appeal mechanism is conducted by persons not associated with the original assessment.

AIWCW Australian Institute of Welfare and Community Workers

The general field of social welfare in Australia is diverse and complex, with a range of occupational groups involved in service provision. Persons with welfare work qualifications are employed across many of these occupations, and their job titles may vary greatly. However, eligibility for membership of the Australian Institute of Welfare and Community Workers (AIWCW) is used by a variety of employers as an important criteria for employment.

The AIWCW is the professional organisation responsible for assessment of overseas qualifications and work experience suitable for recognition as a generic welfare worker in Australia, using the criteria for eligibility for membership. Eligibility for membership of the AIWCW generally requires a person to have completed a vocational qualification in welfare work, community services or human services, with a 3 year university degree, or a 2 year diploma at a college of technical and further education (TAFE); including studies of society, individual human structure and function, welfare work with individuals, groups and communities, welfare services and systems, and practical training of at least 400 hours.

Full membership of the AIWCW is also available to those who:

- satisfy the AIWCW requirements for Core Competencies; and
- have a relevant qualification at least equivalent to the Australian Qualification Framework Diploma in academic standard; and
- which is at least equivalent to 2 years of full-time or 1000 hours of study; and
- have at least 3 years of professional work experience (30 hours per week or more) within the last 10 years.

A 'relevant qualification' may include, for example, a general 3 year Bachelor of Arts degree with a psychology or sociology major, or a specialised 2 year diploma in the field of social welfare. Decisions about the relevance of alternative qualifications and/or work experience are made on an individual basis by an AIWCW Membership Assessment Coordinator, with doubtful cases being referred to the National Membership Assessment Panel.

Experience has shown that, due to differences in social work education between countries, the course studied by many overseas trained social workers, who initially seek to join the AASW, do not meet AASW eligibility requirements. In the past, many of these people have met the requirements of the AIWCW. You may initially apply for social work assessment and if unsuccessful, have your application sent on for welfare work assessment without additional cost. However, this process is not usually available for other occupations in this complex field.

CPAA CPA Australia

CPA Australia (CPAA) is one of the 3 professional accounting bodies in Australia and is a designated assessing authority for ASCO occupations Accountant, Corporate Treasurer, External Auditor and Finance Manager.

Assessment for migration purposes is based on the same criteria for admission to Associate (entry-level) membership of CPAA. In general, you can select CPAA, ICAA (The Institute of Chartered Accountants Australia) or NIA (National Institution of Accountants) to provide your assessment.

Note: ACCA (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) and CIMA (The Chartered Institute of Management Accountants) qualified accountants who do not also have an undergraduate degree are offered several options for meeting the requirements for admission as an Associate membership of CPAA. However, for the purpose of migration applications, these accountants are advised to apply to the ICAA or NIA for a skills assessment.

To meet the educational standard for any of the above ASCO occupations, you must have formal qualifications assessed by CPAA as comparable to an Australian Bachelor degree. These qualifications must include adequate coverage of at least 9 of the 12 core curriculum areas required for Associate membership. Work experience is not accepted in lieu of formal qualifications. The core curriculum areas are basic accounting, financial and corporate accounting, current accounting issues (standards and theory), cost and management accounting, business finance, auditing, introductory law (including contracts), economics, statistics, computer information systems, Australian taxation law and Australian company law.

Further information and instructions are provided with the assessment application form, available on request or from the CPAA website. CPAA will issue a written assessment result indicating that your qualifications either meet or do not meet the requirement for your nominated ASCO occupation. If your assessment advises that you meet the requirement, you can submit it with your visa application without completing any further study. Assessments are valid for 5 years and will include details of accredited study programs available by distance learning. Thus, if your assessment is not successful in the first instance, you will be able to complete additional studies required to meet the standard required for migration.

If your visa is granted (and validated) and you wish to apply for membership of CPAA, you must complete the remaining entry level studies prescribed before admission. Members admitted at Associate level must complete the postgraduate level CPA Program and Mentor Program (work experience) before advancing to CPA status.

ICAA Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia

The Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia (ICAA) is one of the 3 professional accounting bodies in Australia and is a designated assessing authority for the ASCO occupations of Accountant, Corporate Treasurer, External Auditor and Finance Manager.

To be considered suitable for any of these occupations for the purpose of migration, you must hold formal qualifications assessed by the ICAA as at least comparable to the level of an Australian Bachelor degree. When it has been established that your qualifications are comparable to an Australian Bachelor degree, the ICAA then examines individual subjects to determine the coverage of required core knowledge areas. Successful applicants are required to have adequate coverage in at least 9 of the 12 core knowledge areas. These areas are: Accounting Systems and Processes; Corporate Accounting and Reporting; Accounting Theory (Professional and Regulatory Processes); Cost and Management Accounting; Corporate Finance; Auditing and Assurance; Introduction to Law and Commercial Law; Australian Company Law; Australian Taxation Law; Information Systems Design and Development; Economics (micro and macro) and Quantitative Methods. It is important to note that practical experience is not accepted as an alternative to formal tertiary study.

Although, in general, you can apply to any of the 3 professional accounting bodies it is recommended that you apply to the ICAA or the NIA for skills assessment, if you are an Associate or a Fellow member of ACCA (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) (UK) or CIMA (The Chartered Institute of Management Accountants) (UK) but you do not hold an undergraduate degree. Please refer to the ICAA website www.icaa.org.au for further information about professional accounting qualifications recognised by the ICAA.

When the ICAA has completed your skills assessment, it will send you a letter indicating whether your qualifications are suitable or not suitable for the purpose of migration to Australia under General Skilled Migration. If your letter of assessment states that your qualifications are suitable for your nominated occupation, you must include it with your application for General Skilled Migration. Your letter of assessment will also contain further information about how to become a member of the ICAA. If you intend to seek admission to the membership of the ICAA, you will be required to undertake further university studies (at least in Australian Company and Taxation Law). Unless you are a full current member of an accounting body with which the ICAA has reciprocal membership, you will also be completing the ICAA's post-graduate program, the CA Program before becoming a member. A period of approved mentored experience may also be necessary.

If your letter of assessment indicates that your qualifications are not suitable for the purpose of migration to Australia under General Skilled Migration, you should not proceed with a migration application. In this case your letter of assessment will provide information about required further study to bridge your knowledge to meet the current educational criteria for your nominated occupation. Further information about the recognition of overseas accounting qualifications, assessment process and about how to apply is provided on our website www.icaa.org.au. You can also download an application form for the skills assessment from the ICAA website.

NIA The National Institute of Accountants

The National Institute of Accountants (NIA) is one of the 3 professional accounting bodies in Australia and is a designated assessing authority for the ASCO occupations of Accountant, Corporate Treasurer, External Auditor and Finance Manager.

Accountants who do not have a Bachelor degree, but who are ACCA (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) and CIMA (The Chartered Institute of Management Accountants) qualified, are also assessed by NIA for migration purposes. Applicants' qualifications must also include adequate coverage of a minimum of 9 out of the 12 core curriculum areas that are necessary for these occupations in Australia. Regardless of which occupation you nominate, the same core requirements apply. It is important to note that practical experience is not accepted as an alternative to a formal qualification.

The core curriculum areas include: basic accounting, financial and corporate accounting, cost and management accounting, current accounting issues (standards and theory), business finance, auditing, introductory law (including contracts), economics, statistics, computer information systems, Australian taxation law and Australian company law.

In general, you can apply to any one of 3 authorised assessing authorities – ie. NIA, ICAA (Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia) or CPAA (CPA Australia) – for a skills assessment for migration purposes.

Further information and instructions are available on the NIA website www.nia.org.au, from which the application form can also be downloaded. Based on the certified supporting documentation submitted with your application, NIA will forward a letter of assessment to indicate either your qualifications are suitable or not suitable for migration purposes. A letter of assessment that indicates that your qualifications are suitable for your nominated ASCO occupation must be submitted with your visa application.

If your qualifications are acceptable for migration purposes you can apply to be admitted as a member of NIA. You may still need to undertake further studies after arriving in Australia if you intend to seek admission to membership of the NIA. This may include some additional studies in Australian company law, Australian taxation law and financial accounting.

There are 4 levels of membership in NIA – Associate (ANIA), Member (MNIA), Professional National Accountant (PNA), Fellow (FNIA / FPNA). Applicants with at least an undergraduate degree qualification plus a minimum of 3 years work experience are eligible to be admitted as a PNA.

Optometry in Australia

Optometrists carry out eye examinations to measure visual efficiency and detect any visual defects. They may prescribe and dispense suitable visual aids such as spectacles and contact lenses as well as special telescopic and magnifying devices for the visually impaired. Optometrists may also advise patients on eye exercises to improve eye muscles and coordination. They are trained in detection and diagnosis of eye diseases, and can refer patients to ophthalmologists or other health care practitioners.

Optometry Education in Australia

A bachelor degree in optometry is required.

Entry of overseas qualified optometrist into the profession in Australia

The qualifications recognised for registration as an optometrist are specified by legislation in each State and Territory. Australian and New Zealand qualifications are accepted in all jurisdictions. Optometrists who qualified in other countries can sit an examination conducted by the Optometry Council of Australia and New Zealand or the New South Wales Board of Optometrical Registration. A pass in the first examination is accepted for registration purposes in all States and Territories of Australia and New Zealand while a pass in the latter will not be automatically accepted in any of the other Australian States or Territories, or in New Zealand.

Optometrists who received their qualification outside Australia or New Zealand should contact the Optometry Council.

If your qualifications are acceptable for migration purposes, you will still need to apply for registration if you are successful in migrating to Australia. If following migration to Australia, your qualifications are accepted by a registration board, this does not guarantee you employment as an optometrist. That will depend on other factors, such as the number of vacancies or your suitability for a particular job.

TRA Trades Recognition Australia

The term 'trades' is used in Australia to describe occupations which require technical knowledge and manual skills and where training is usually through an apprenticeship.

In the past, trades skills and knowledge have been recognised in Australia through a trade certificate. Recent changes to Australia's training system are replacing trade certificates with qualifications known as Australian Qualification Framework (AQF) certificates.

The AQF comprises qualifications at levels which reflect the complexity and range of the required skills and knowledge. The qualification for a trade is usually an AQF Certificate III or, in some cases, AQF Certificate IV. These qualification levels also apply to other occupations, and the qualification level by itself does not make an occupation a trade. A trade is defined by the combination of the type of knowledge and skill involved, together with the level of qualification.

AQF Certificates are issued in respect of defined sets of competencies. Competencies, and the combinations of competencies required for a certificate, are specified in Training Packages.

Competencies are detailed specifications of the knowledge and skill required in the workplace in Australia. They provide the benchmarks for assessing skills for migration purposes.

Assessing skills against competencies requires very detailed information from a variety of sources. You will be required to provide extensive and detailed information about your training and/or work experience to the assessing authority. You will need to meet the assessing authority's requirements for the authentication of the information you provide.

The assessing authority will charge you a fee to carry out the assessment.

The assessment of your skills by the assessing authority will be for migration purposes only. The outcome of your assessment will not be a qualification.

It will assist you in your self-assessment against the skill requirement for migration, but it does not mean that your application for migration to Australia will necessarily be approved. It will be considered by the Australian Government, together with other factors, in making a decision on your migration application.

Information about trade skills and application forms for having your trade skills assessed are available by contacting the Trades Recognition Australia (TRA).

Applications and payments for assessment must be made directly to the assessing authority. Any further inquiries about your skills assessment must also be made directly to the assessing authority.

If you are successful in your migration application, it is also important to understand that you will not automatically be provided with a qualification in Australia on the basis of your skills assessment. You may be required to undergo further assessment before a decision can be made on whether to issue you with a qualification in Australia. The assessing authority will provide you with more information on this, including additional fees you will have to pay.
